

ARRANGEMENT OF MATES.
Maine Class.
Gene East, 8.00 a. m. & p. m. Closed mail for Portland and all points beyond 15 p. m.

CHURCHES.
METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH,
Main Street.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH,
Pastor, Rev. A. Hamilton, Residence, Main Street.

CONGREGATIONALIST CHURCH,
Pastor, Rev. J. J. Foster, Residence, Main Street.

MIDDLE INTERVALE BAPTIST CHURCH,
Pastor, Rev. J. J. Foster, Residence, Main Street.

SOCIETIES.
ODD FELLOWS.
Moose Lodge No. 21, 103 1/2 Main St.

GRAND ARMY.
Brown Post No. 24, A. H. Hutchinson, P. O. C.

UNITED ORDER OF THE GOLDEN CROSS.
Grand Lodge No. 27, 103 1/2 Main St.

BETHEL CORNET BAND.
E. H. Young, Leader.

KIMBALL & SON,
Attorneys at Law,
NOBAY, MAINE.

GODDARD BROS.
Dealers in
BURIAL CASKETS.

MAY BASKETS.
PLAIN & CREPE
TISSUE PAPER
in all colors

L. G. HALL'S.
SOLE BLOCK, MAINE.

WANTS, LOST, ETC.
Notice under this head inserted one week for 25 cents. Three weeks for 50 cents.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.
A House on High street. 7 rooms. Inquire of J. B. Chapman.

FOR SALE.
A 3 seated spring board. Can be seen at F. C. BARKER'S, Bethel.

SCREEN DOORS.
H. C. Barker has just received something new in screen doors.

LAKE STAGE.
I am now running the stage line to Lakeside, N. H., leaving Bethel Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Lovejoy House.
W. F. Lovejoy & Son, Props,
BETHEL HILL, MAINE.

SUBSCRIBE for the NEWS now and get everything of interest concerning the Bethel Centennial.

The Bethel News.

AN INDEPENDENT FAMILY NEWSPAPER, DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF BETHEL AND SURROUNDING TOWNS.

$1.25 Per Year, in advance.

BETHEL, MAINE, WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1896.

Vol. 1. No. 52.

NEWS ABOUT HOME.

What our People are doing. Items of Interest, etc.

"A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid."

Col. Edwards went to Portland Saturday.

Mrs. E. C. Rowe went to Portland last Saturday.

Major Hastings went to Rumford Point Sunday.

Robert Foster is at Middle Dam for a week, fishing.

E. P. Hoft is painting the Odd Fellow's block this week.

The C. E. held a very pleasant sociable in Garland Chapel, Tuesday evening, May 20th.

Mr. Thomas Kendall reports a sale of 85 of the Paris Washing Machines during the past week.

Mr. A. M. True has been in Boston this week arranging for decorations for the Celebration.

Charlie Tilton of Auburn, attended Centennial at Gould's Academy, returning home Monday morning.

Miss Eva Barker has returned from Massachusetts, where she has been on business and to visit friends.

Dea. J. U. Purington left home for Brunswick Tuesday morning, being called there by the critical illness of his mother.

The singers in the community are urged to be present at the final Memorial day rehearsal in Odeon Hall at 7:30, Thursday evening.

Among former students who came back to attend Commencement exercises, was Herman Mason who has a good position at Rumford Falls.

Miss Minnie Capen has returned from a visit to friends at New Gloucester, and is spending the remainder of her vacation with her parents.

And still the repairing and improvements to buildings go on. We notice Mr. Haines has begun repairs and additions to his buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Park have gone to Portland for a few weeks. Mr. Park is in rather poor health and this will afford him an opportunity to rest.

President Wilson, General Manager Hayes, and other officials of the Grand Trunk, passed through Bethel last Wednesday evening on their way to Portland.

A new firm occupies Mr. Charles Mason's store on Main Street. They will canvass this and surrounding towns to sell stoves and ranges. These are made of steel and are said to have every advantage over the iron stoves now in use.

Last week Mr. L. T. Barker went to Newry to attend to the removal of the bodies of two children of Mrs. Salome and the late Rueben Foster of Waltham, which were sent to the latter place to be buried in the family lot.

The Oxford Co. Conference will meet Tuesday and Wednesday of next week with the Congregational church at Oxford. Quite a number from Bethel expect to attend. Thursday, the local Union of the Y. P. S. C. E. will meet at the same church.

The Grand Trunk have at last got the matter of bicycle transportation settled. Hereafter according to a general order every bicycle will be charged as fifty pounds of excess baggage, whether the passenger has other baggage or not. It will therefore cost 25c to take your bicycle aboard a Grand Trunk train in the future.

While at South-Paris recently it was our pleasure to call on the leading optician west of Portland, Dr. Samuel Richards. Dr. Richards is a near optician in his jewelry store, fitted up with costly optical instruments. He is a graduate from two or more leading optical schools, and has a thorough knowledge of the eye. Cannot people who need glasses benefit do better than to give Dr. Richards of South Paris a call.

The ladies have as good a right to machinery to lighten their household duties as have the men in their work. A good washing machine is to the woman what the mowing machine is to the farmer. It makes the hard work lighter. The washing machines manufactured by the Paris Manufacturing Co. are as good as any on the market, and the price is within the reach of any lady in the county. Mr. T. B. Kendall has the agency in Bethel, and he is having wonderful success. He has within a short time sold thirty-five in town, and they are still going. If you want a really good washer at a low price, inform Mr. Kendall of the fact.

BETHEL WAS UNFORUNATE.

INTERSCOLASTIC LEAGUE SPORTS CAME OFF AT BETHEL, AND SEVERAL RECORDS WERE MADE.

The Maine Interscholastic Athletic League, which comprises Gould's, Potter, and Bridgton Academies and Norway High School, held its sixth annual field meet at Riverside Park last Friday afternoon.

The contest was really between Gould's Academy and Norway High School, as the Potter and Bridgton boys failed to appear. The officers of the day were as follows: Referee, W. W. Bolster, Judges, T. F. Hastings, Bethel, C. E. Cragin, Norway, J. A. Rogers of Freeport, Starter, A. L. Hubbard, Clerk of Course, W. H. Jones.

From the start it was evident that Norway was in it to win if the influence of the referee and at least one of the judges counted for anything. In the quarter mile race, Cross of Norway ran into Bisbee, throwing Bisbee back and virtually out of the race; after a vigorous kick by the Bethels, Cross was finally disqualified. In the 100 yards dash, two of the N. H. S. boys cornered A. Wiley, thus giving him third place instead of first, which he could have easily won. In the 440 yards dash H. Wiley broke the league record of 55 1/2 seconds, making the distance in 57 seconds. Lafarrier, Norway, threw the hammer 100 feet 11 inches breaking the league record, 96 ft. 3 inches. The half mile bicycle league record was broken by Cross, Norway, 1 minute 19 seconds. In the running broad jump the judge from Norway and the referee showed whose yard they were dancing in most clearly. Merrill of Bethel won the jump fair enough but a bluff on the part of the judge, and an ignorant decision on the part of the referee, gave the event to Fox of Norway.

The summaries: 100-yard dash, F. A. Lafarrier, Norway, '96, first; Fox, Norway, second; Wiley, Gould, third. Time 11 1/2 s.

One-quarter mile bicycle race—W. G. Sprague, Norway, '96, first; Stearns, Norway, second. Time, 41 s.

Throwing 16-pound shot—F. A. Lafarrier, Norway, '96, first; Hastings, Gould, second; Demerritt, Gould, third. Distance, 30ft 9 in.

440-yard dash—Howard Wiley, Gould special course, first; Lafarrier, Norway, second, Wiley, Gould, third. Time, 57 s.

Pole Vault—Demerritt, Gould, '98, first; Harriman, Norway, second; Merrow, Gould, third. Distance, 7ft 9 in.

Throwing 12-pound hammer—F. A. Lafarrier, Norway, '96, first; Bryant, Gould, second; Demerritt, Gould, third. Distance, 100 ft 11 in.

Half-mile run—Howard Wiley, Gould special course, first; Wiley, Gould, second; Towne, Norway, third. Time, 2m 24 1/2 s.

Half-mile bicycle race—Ned Cross, Norway, first; Sprague, Norway, second; Stearns, Norway, third. Time, 1m 19 s.

High jump—Charles Brown, Norway, '96, first; Harriman, Norway, second; Towne, Norway, third. Height, 4ft 9 in.

Hurdle race—Willie Harriman, Norway, '96, first; Merrow, Gould, second.

Running broad jump—Charles Fox, Norway, '96, first; Merrill, Gould, second; Brown, Norway, third. Distance, 18ft 9 in.

Ball Game at Berlin, N. H. The Lewiston High School Base Ball Club is to play the Berlin Club on the Berlin grounds, Memorial day afternoon. The Berlin are doing some good work this year, and it is expected that this will be a hotly contested game.

Next Friday the annual meeting of the Oxford County Teachers' Association will be held in Gould's academy building, Bethel. The following programme is announced: 10:00 A. M. Reading Scripture and Prayer. Report of Secretary. Address of Welcome. Hon. A. E. Herriek, Response by the President of the Society. Mr. Arthur Wiley. "The Teaching of History to Children Ten Years of Age." Miss Helen Faunce, Norway. Arithmetic in Rural Schools. James S. Hatches, Locke's Mills. Teaching Exercise in Language. Miss Trembly, Bethel. Noon recess.

Methods in Teaching Literature. Miss Alice Purington, Gould's Academy. Supplementary Work in History. Mr. Whitmarsh, So. Paris. Geography. Mrs. M. C. Pike, So. Paris. Recess, and Query Box. Should We Have Written Examinations in Rural Schools? Miss Edith L. Farnham, Norway Center. The Teaching of English Grammar. Miss Kate Hobbs, Norway. The Ideal School. G. W. Stearns, Rumford Falls. Evening Session. 7:30.

Instrumental and Vocal Music. Address, "Literature and Life." George E. Chase, D. D., Free. Bates Col. "All interested in education are invited."

GOULD'S ACADEMY.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR JUST CLOSED.

The public examination of the scholars at Gould's Academy last week, was very satisfactory, and did great credit to the scholars and teachers. Prof. Small has done good work in the school, and has the respect and support of the entire place. Odeon Hall was well filled Thursday afternoon with friends of the graduates to listen to the graduating exercises. The stage was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, and under an arch hung the class motto, "Viam ad sidera tendimus." Rev. A. Hamilton offered prayer. The Salutatory, which was in Latin by Miss Joan Stearns was a fine production, closing with many apt illustrations in English; the subject, "Victory in Defeat." It received well merited applause. Gilman Chapman had as the subject of his discourse, "The United States of America—a Nation of Peace and Justice." He compared our nation first with the early nations of history, then with England and Russia; he spoke in a deliberate manner and handled the subject easily. William C. Bryant in his delineation of his subject, "Ancient and Modern Warfare," showed careful reading and study of his theme, dwelling to some length upon the improvements in modern weapons. "Diamonds" was the subject chosen by Bertha M. Wiley, and that she had mastered her subject was shown first by the excellent character of the essay, and also by the graceful manner in which it was delivered. "The Moral Progress of the American People," was treated by George W. Merrow, who spoke of the advancement made in art, literature and science, all tending to higher civilization and morality. Fred B. Merrill discussed "Cuba," its relations to the United States, its struggle for independence, the desirability of its autonomy and the prospect of its final triumph. The valedictory, by Miss Cornelia French, was an historical legend of Sudbury, Canada, (Bethel Hill) in blank verse, delivered in a clear, distinct voice and showing a wide knowledge of her subject. It was pronounced fine by all who listened to it, and is worthy of special mention. Miss French paid a graceful tribute to the teachers and a loving farewell to the school. The diplomas were delivered to the graduates in a graceful manner by Principal F. O. Small. Grimmer's Orchestra interspersed finely rendered music throughout the exercises, and they received much well merited applause from the audience. The concert in the evening was largely attended. Gymnastic exercises gave a fine concert, and Hoyt L. Conroy of Boston, reader, kept the audience convulsed with laughter. Nearly every selection was followed by a storm of applause. Afterward the graduating class gave a reception to the teachers. Refreshments were served and the evening passed very pleasantly.

NOTICE. To the members of the Bethel Savings Bank. You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the members of the Bethel Savings Bank Corporation will be held at said Bank, on Wednesday, June 10th, 1896, at two o'clock, P. M. to fill vacancies caused by loss of membership or otherwise; to elect a board of trustees and an investigating committee; and to transact any other business and erect any other necessary bank officers. Bethel, May 21st, 1896. A. E. Herriek, Secretary.

Mr. Editor: In reading last week's issue of your paper my eye fell on the last paragraph in the West Bethel letter, which reads thus: "Compositors' blunders and the proof readers' carelessness caused many errors to appear in last week's News." When we found Holt printed Hall, and Murphy called Marshall, and the name of Harlan Wheeler of Gilead, printed Harland Bartlett, we thought it time for corrections to be made. Did it ever occur to the one who wrote those proper names, which were so carefully enumerated as the blunders of a compositor and proof reader, that if he had written them plainly it would have helped out the proof reader as well as compositor? Correspondents cannot be too careful in spelling proper names, and should write them very clearly, so there can be no question as to their correctness. "Workmen in a printing office are not mind-readers, therefore I send this as a gentle reminder to those whom it may concern, and hope it will be accepted kindly. Proof Reader.

SIX MONTHS IN EUROPE.

GENOA.

BY J. D. MERRIMAN.

From here over four hundred years ago, departed Columbus to discover new mercantile routes and complete the ruin of Genoa's commerce. Thither came Marco Polo, exciting the Genoese to new adventures by the tales of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We ascended the hill by what would be rather a narrow street for an American city, but is a wide one for Genoa. Via San Lorenzo, past the National Bank and Cathedral, what formerly was the old ducal palace, but is now the City Hall, to the Piazza Deferri. Here was our hotel, opposite the Teatro Carlo Felice, which Marion Crawford sets on fire in order that his "Knight Errant" may act the hero and rescue his lover. The Piazza is centrally located for many of the most interesting places in the city, besides being in itself an object of interest. Nowhere can one see to better advantage the picturesque and busy scene of an Italian market at its height. One must rise early to see it at its best, for the occupants are obliged to have everything cleared away and the squares swept before nine o'clock in the forenoon. During the progress of the market, the whole square appears to be one mass of vegetables and humanity, it being hard to tell which predominates. The vendors, who are almost without exception women, will come in early with their huge basket full of all kinds of produce, and selecting their spot will spread out their goods on the ground, or in baskets, for sale. Here will be a small heap of cucumbers or potatoes, radishes, or cabbage. It is an animated scene. The sun-burned women with their short skirts, a cloth tied over their heads instead of hats, are busily engaged in supplying the wants of the throngs of purchasers. Then when the market is over they scrape up all the leaves, bits of grass and remaining produce, put it into the deep baskets, which are now nearly empty, and packing these whole within another place the whole upon a little mat on the top of their heads. This travelling pyramid, sometimes extending into the air five to ten feet, will then walk unconcernedly away. This is only one of the markets of the city, but it is the most important. To the north of the Piazza is the Giardino Agua Sola, or Public Garden and Park. To this place was but a short walk, up the Via Roma. The eastern side of this street was lined with stores or shops, and behind these, entered by a passage, was another street, the Galleria Mazzini, one of those covered shopping places for which some of the European cities are so famous. Shops line the whole length of it on both sides. The northern entrance to the Gallery is near the new statue of Victor Emanuel. Three names force themselves continually upon the attention of the traveller in Italy: Victor Emanuel, the first king of United Italy, Count Cavour, the astute statesman and great minister, and Garibaldi, the candle-maker of New York, the daring and reckless hero of Italian Independence. Small and unimportant indeed must be the city which does not have a fine statue to one or all three of these national heroes, "of streets and squares named in honor of them. This equestrian statue has been erected within the last ten years. To the east of it is the "promenade and immediately to the west is a statue of the patriot Mazzini, a native of Genoa. Directly above the statue of Mazzini, rises the Villetta di Negro, a rocky eminence about 200 feet high. It is a mass of rocks, with trees and shrubbery wherever nature or art can make them grow. On the side towards us there was a small stream of water running down from the top of the rocks, making falls and cascades; diving among the rocks and under rustic bridges, and again coming out into little pools. Between the statue and the Villetta was a small garden with trees and numerous statuettes. Altogether it made a fine picture. Accordingly a photograph of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We ascended the hill by what would be rather a narrow street for an American city, but is a wide one for Genoa. Via San Lorenzo, past the National Bank and Cathedral, what formerly was the old ducal palace, but is now the City Hall, to the Piazza Deferri. Here was our hotel, opposite the Teatro Carlo Felice, which Marion Crawford sets on fire in order that his "Knight Errant" may act the hero and rescue his lover. The Piazza is centrally located for many of the most interesting places in the city, besides being in itself an object of interest. Nowhere can one see to better advantage the picturesque and busy scene of an Italian market at its height. One must rise early to see it at its best, for the occupants are obliged to have everything cleared away and the squares swept before nine o'clock in the forenoon. During the progress of the market, the whole square appears to be one mass of vegetables and humanity, it being hard to tell which predominates. The vendors, who are almost without exception women, will come in early with their huge basket full of all kinds of produce, and selecting their spot will spread out their goods on the ground, or in baskets, for sale. Here will be a small heap of cucumbers or potatoes, radishes, or cabbage. It is an animated scene. The sun-burned women with their short skirts, a cloth tied over their heads instead of hats, are busily engaged in supplying the wants of the throngs of purchasers. Then when the market is over they scrape up all the leaves, bits of grass and remaining produce, put it into the deep baskets, which are now nearly empty, and packing these whole within another place the whole upon a little mat on the top of their heads. This travelling pyramid, sometimes extending into the air five to ten feet, will then walk unconcernedly away. This is only one of the markets of the city, but it is the most important. To the north of the Piazza is the Giardino Agua Sola, or Public Garden and Park. To this place was but a short walk, up the Via Roma. The eastern side of this street was lined with stores or shops, and behind these, entered by a passage, was another street, the Galleria Mazzini, one of those covered shopping places for which some of the European cities are so famous. Shops line the whole length of it on both sides. The northern entrance to the Gallery is near the new statue of Victor Emanuel. Three names force themselves continually upon the attention of the traveller in Italy: Victor Emanuel, the first king of United Italy, Count Cavour, the astute statesman and great minister, and Garibaldi, the candle-maker of New York, the daring and reckless hero of Italian Independence. Small and unimportant indeed must be the city which does not have a fine statue to one or all three of these national heroes, "of streets and squares named in honor of them. This equestrian statue has been erected within the last ten years. To the east of it is the "promenade and immediately to the west is a statue of the patriot Mazzini, a native of Genoa. Directly above the statue of Mazzini, rises the Villetta di Negro, a rocky eminence about 200 feet high. It is a mass of rocks, with trees and shrubbery wherever nature or art can make them grow. On the side towards us there was a small stream of water running down from the top of the rocks, making falls and cascades; diving among the rocks and under rustic bridges, and again coming out into little pools. Between the statue and the Villetta was a small garden with trees and numerous statuettes. Altogether it made a fine picture. Accordingly a photograph of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We ascended the hill by what would be rather a narrow street for an American city, but is a wide one for Genoa. Via San Lorenzo, past the National Bank and Cathedral, what formerly was the old ducal palace, but is now the City Hall, to the Piazza Deferri. Here was our hotel, opposite the Teatro Carlo Felice, which Marion Crawford sets on fire in order that his "Knight Errant" may act the hero and rescue his lover. The Piazza is centrally located for many of the most interesting places in the city, besides being in itself an object of interest. Nowhere can one see to better advantage the picturesque and busy scene of an Italian market at its height. One must rise early to see it at its best, for the occupants are obliged to have everything cleared away and the squares swept before nine o'clock in the forenoon. During the progress of the market, the whole square appears to be one mass of vegetables and humanity, it being hard to tell which predominates. The vendors, who are almost without exception women, will come in early with their huge basket full of all kinds of produce, and selecting their spot will spread out their goods on the ground, or in baskets, for sale. Here will be a small heap of cucumbers or potatoes, radishes, or cabbage. It is an animated scene. The sun-burned women with their short skirts, a cloth tied over their heads instead of hats, are busily engaged in supplying the wants of the throngs of purchasers. Then when the market is over they scrape up all the leaves, bits of grass and remaining produce, put it into the deep baskets, which are now nearly empty, and packing these whole within another place the whole upon a little mat on the top of their heads. This travelling pyramid, sometimes extending into the air five to ten feet, will then walk unconcernedly away. This is only one of the markets of the city, but it is the most important. To the north of the Piazza is the Giardino Agua Sola, or Public Garden and Park. To this place was but a short walk, up the Via Roma. The eastern side of this street was lined with stores or shops, and behind these, entered by a passage, was another street, the Galleria Mazzini, one of those covered shopping places for which some of the European cities are so famous. Shops line the whole length of it on both sides. The northern entrance to the Gallery is near the new statue of Victor Emanuel. Three names force themselves continually upon the attention of the traveller in Italy: Victor Emanuel, the first king of United Italy, Count Cavour, the astute statesman and great minister, and Garibaldi, the candle-maker of New York, the daring and reckless hero of Italian Independence. Small and unimportant indeed must be the city which does not have a fine statue to one or all three of these national heroes, "of streets and squares named in honor of them. This equestrian statue has been erected within the last ten years. To the east of it is the "promenade and immediately to the west is a statue of the patriot Mazzini, a native of Genoa. Directly above the statue of Mazzini, rises the Villetta di Negro, a rocky eminence about 200 feet high. It is a mass of rocks, with trees and shrubbery wherever nature or art can make them grow. On the side towards us there was a small stream of water running down from the top of the rocks, making falls and cascades; diving among the rocks and under rustic bridges, and again coming out into little pools. Between the statue and the Villetta was a small garden with trees and numerous statuettes. Altogether it made a fine picture. Accordingly a photograph of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We ascended the hill by what would be rather a narrow street for an American city, but is a wide one for Genoa. Via San Lorenzo, past the National Bank and Cathedral, what formerly was the old ducal palace, but is now the City Hall, to the Piazza Deferri. Here was our hotel, opposite the Teatro Carlo Felice, which Marion Crawford sets on fire in order that his "Knight Errant" may act the hero and rescue his lover. The Piazza is centrally located for many of the most interesting places in the city, besides being in itself an object of interest. Nowhere can one see to better advantage the picturesque and busy scene of an Italian market at its height. One must rise early to see it at its best, for the occupants are obliged to have everything cleared away and the squares swept before nine o'clock in the forenoon. During the progress of the market, the whole square appears to be one mass of vegetables and humanity, it being hard to tell which predominates. The vendors, who are almost without exception women, will come in early with their huge basket full of all kinds of produce, and selecting their spot will spread out their goods on the ground, or in baskets, for sale. Here will be a small heap of cucumbers or potatoes, radishes, or cabbage. It is an animated scene. The sun-burned women with their short skirts, a cloth tied over their heads instead of hats, are busily engaged in supplying the wants of the throngs of purchasers. Then when the market is over they scrape up all the leaves, bits of grass and remaining produce, put it into the deep baskets, which are now nearly empty, and packing these whole within another place the whole upon a little mat on the top of their heads. This travelling pyramid, sometimes extending into the air five to ten feet, will then walk unconcernedly away. This is only one of the markets of the city, but it is the most important. To the north of the Piazza is the Giardino Agua Sola, or Public Garden and Park. To this place was but a short walk, up the Via Roma. The eastern side of this street was lined with stores or shops, and behind these, entered by a passage, was another street, the Galleria Mazzini, one of those covered shopping places for which some of the European cities are so famous. Shops line the whole length of it on both sides. The northern entrance to the Gallery is near the new statue of Victor Emanuel. Three names force themselves continually upon the attention of the traveller in Italy: Victor Emanuel, the first king of United Italy, Count Cavour, the astute statesman and great minister, and Garibaldi, the candle-maker of New York, the daring and reckless hero of Italian Independence. Small and unimportant indeed must be the city which does not have a fine statue to one or all three of these national heroes, "of streets and squares named in honor of them. This equestrian statue has been erected within the last ten years. To the east of it is the "promenade and immediately to the west is a statue of the patriot Mazzini, a native of Genoa. Directly above the statue of Mazzini, rises the Villetta di Negro, a rocky eminence about 200 feet high. It is a mass of rocks, with trees and shrubbery wherever nature or art can make them grow. On the side towards us there was a small stream of water running down from the top of the rocks, making falls and cascades; diving among the rocks and under rustic bridges, and again coming out into little pools. Between the statue and the Villetta was a small garden with trees and numerous statuettes. Altogether it made a fine picture. Accordingly a photograph of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We ascended the hill by what would be rather a narrow street for an American city, but is a wide one for Genoa. Via San Lorenzo, past the National Bank and Cathedral, what formerly was the old ducal palace, but is now the City Hall, to the Piazza Deferri. Here was our hotel, opposite the Teatro Carlo Felice, which Marion Crawford sets on fire in order that his "Knight Errant" may act the hero and rescue his lover. The Piazza is centrally located for many of the most interesting places in the city, besides being in itself an object of interest. Nowhere can one see to better advantage the picturesque and busy scene of an Italian market at its height. One must rise early to see it at its best, for the occupants are obliged to have everything cleared away and the squares swept before nine o'clock in the forenoon. During the progress of the market, the whole square appears to be one mass of vegetables and humanity, it being hard to tell which predominates. The vendors, who are almost without exception women, will come in early with their huge basket full of all kinds of produce, and selecting their spot will spread out their goods on the ground, or in baskets, for sale. Here will be a small heap of cucumbers or potatoes, radishes, or cabbage. It is an animated scene. The sun-burned women with their short skirts, a cloth tied over their heads instead of hats, are busily engaged in supplying the wants of the throngs of purchasers. Then when the market is over they scrape up all the leaves, bits of grass and remaining produce, put it into the deep baskets, which are now nearly empty, and packing these whole within another place the whole upon a little mat on the top of their heads. This travelling pyramid, sometimes extending into the air five to ten feet, will then walk unconcernedly away. This is only one of the markets of the city, but it is the most important. To the north of the Piazza is the Giardino Agua Sola, or Public Garden and Park. To this place was but a short walk, up the Via Roma. The eastern side of this street was lined with stores or shops, and behind these, entered by a passage, was another street, the Galleria Mazzini, one of those covered shopping places for which some of the European cities are so famous. Shops line the whole length of it on both sides. The northern entrance to the Gallery is near the new statue of Victor Emanuel. Three names force themselves continually upon the attention of the traveller in Italy: Victor Emanuel, the first king of United Italy, Count Cavour, the astute statesman and great minister, and Garibaldi, the candle-maker of New York, the daring and reckless hero of Italian Independence. Small and unimportant indeed must be the city which does not have a fine statue to one or all three of these national heroes, "of streets and squares named in honor of them. This equestrian statue has been erected within the last ten years. To the east of it is the "promenade and immediately to the west is a statue of the patriot Mazzini, a native of Genoa. Directly above the statue of Mazzini, rises the Villetta di Negro, a rocky eminence about 200 feet high. It is a mass of rocks, with trees and shrubbery wherever nature or art can make them grow. On the side towards us there was a small stream of water running down from the top of the rocks, making falls and cascades; diving among the rocks and under rustic bridges, and again coming out into little pools. Between the statue and the Villetta was a small garden with trees and numerous statuettes. Altogether it made a fine picture. Accordingly a photograph of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We ascended the hill by what would be rather a narrow street for an American city, but is a wide one for Genoa. Via San Lorenzo, past the National Bank and Cathedral, what formerly was the old ducal palace, but is now the City Hall, to the Piazza Deferri. Here was our hotel, opposite the Teatro Carlo Felice, which Marion Crawford sets on fire in order that his "Knight Errant" may act the hero and rescue his lover. The Piazza is centrally located for many of the most interesting places in the city, besides being in itself an object of interest. Nowhere can one see to better advantage the picturesque and busy scene of an Italian market at its height. One must rise early to see it at its best, for the occupants are obliged to have everything cleared away and the squares swept before nine o'clock in the forenoon. During the progress of the market, the whole square appears to be one mass of vegetables and humanity, it being hard to tell which predominates. The vendors, who are almost without exception women, will come in early with their huge basket full of all kinds of produce, and selecting their spot will spread out their goods on the ground, or in baskets, for sale. Here will be a small heap of cucumbers or potatoes, radishes, or cabbage. It is an animated scene. The sun-burned women with their short skirts, a cloth tied over their heads instead of hats, are busily engaged in supplying the wants of the throngs of purchasers. Then when the market is over they scrape up all the leaves, bits of grass and remaining produce, put it into the deep baskets, which are now nearly empty, and packing these whole within another place the whole upon a little mat on the top of their heads. This travelling pyramid, sometimes extending into the air five to ten feet, will then walk unconcernedly away. This is only one of the markets of the city, but it is the most important. To the north of the Piazza is the Giardino Agua Sola, or Public Garden and Park. To this place was but a short walk, up the Via Roma. The eastern side of this street was lined with stores or shops, and behind these, entered by a passage, was another street, the Galleria Mazzini, one of those covered shopping places for which some of the European cities are so famous. Shops line the whole length of it on both sides. The northern entrance to the Gallery is near the new statue of Victor Emanuel. Three names force themselves continually upon the attention of the traveller in Italy: Victor Emanuel, the first king of United Italy, Count Cavour, the astute statesman and great minister, and Garibaldi, the candle-maker of New York, the daring and reckless hero of Italian Independence. Small and unimportant indeed must be the city which does not have a fine statue to one or all three of these national heroes, "of streets and squares named in honor of them. This equestrian statue has been erected within the last ten years. To the east of it is the "promenade and immediately to the west is a statue of the patriot Mazzini, a native of Genoa. Directly above the statue of Mazzini, rises the Villetta di Negro, a rocky eminence about 200 feet high. It is a mass of rocks, with trees and shrubbery wherever nature or art can make them grow. On the side towards us there was a small stream of water running down from the top of the rocks, making falls and cascades; diving among the rocks and under rustic bridges, and again coming out into little pools. Between the statue and the Villetta was a small garden with trees and numerous statuettes. Altogether it made a fine picture. Accordingly a photograph of his travels in the East; and here were brought the spoils of those piratical sailors, whose field of operations included even the burial places of the dead. For those who carried Godfrey to Jerusalem, did not return empty-handed. They forcibly took away from the Monks of Myrrha, what were said to be the remains and relics of St. John the Baptist, and brought them back to Genoa. At first these were placed in a small church, but afterward were transferred to the beautiful St. John's chapel in the Cathedral. Before these relics knelt Frederic Barbarossa, Charles V. of Spain, and many other crowned heads and church magnates. We slowly entered the Porto, or inner harbor, and approached the dock. All was bustle and hurry on deck. The baggage had been hoisted from the hold and made ready to be transferred to the shore. It was still quite early when we left the steamship and drove to the hotel. Our route led out from the quay across the railroad tracks and past San Giorgio. We

THE BETHEL NEWS

Published Every Wednesday by A. D. ELLINGWOOD, Proprietor, Bethel, Me.

TERMS: $1.25 per year, payable in advance.

Entered in Bethel, Me. Post-Office as Second Class matter.

Bethel, Maine, May 27, 1896.

SINGLE COPIES OF THE NEWS. Single copies of the News, and three cents each. For convenience of patrons single copies of each issue for the following places: Bethel, W. E. & G. S. Store, South Paris, S. M. & S. Store, Norway, S. M. & S. Store, Rumford Falls, C. Clifton.

$100,000,000 is the estimated amount of advertising done in American newspapers per year, and the amount is steadily increasing.

The war of races at Tampa, Fla., shows that the war spirit is not all smothered in the South yet. The burning of negro cabins and killing colored men would show that the state needed some severe discipline yet.

Now that Spain is to send 40,000 more troops to Cuba, the natives will begin to wonder if Spain don't regard the rebellion as something more than a mere outbreak of a lawless mob.

The Christian Endeavor Convention in Washington promises to be the largest gathering in the history of the society. The speakers are being selected with a great deal of care, and it is confidently expected that the programme of the convention will be in every respect the best yet.

The new battleship Oregon has beaten the record made by the battleship Massachusetts. The Oregon made an average speed of seventeen knots an hour, beating the world's record and earning the construction company a bonus of $175,000. The quality of the United States navy is steadily improving.

Oxford towns make more account of centennials than Bridgton did. Here comes Bethel and Norway with the most elaborate preparation—the one next month, the latter next spring. Bridgtonians might ride over to Bethel and see how they do it. They would find, as President of the day, an excellent gentleman who was born very near the Bridgton line, Judge E. W. Woodbury—Bridgton News.

Highway Surveyor E. W. Barker is doing a good job clearing up the streets. From the railroad bridge over to the river he has graded up and improved the street wonderfully; a part of the way a nice side walk has been graded up, and everything looks as neat as a new whistle. In the village, Main and High streets already show signs of his careful work, and we learn that the other streets will receive like treatment.

A reader of the News dropped into the office a day or two ago and the conversation drifted onto village improvements. He said he had noticed that many of the yards had been put into good shape this spring, the fences fixed up and a general air of prosperity and cleanliness prevailed; but he also intimated that in a few instances improvement might still be made. We would suggest that as the centennial celebration occurs June 10th, and at that time many visitors will be in town, that all who have not already done so, "stick up a little," that everything may look spick and span.

THE CASE OF BARROWS vs. STEVENS. This case was tried at South Paris last week. It was a replevin suit brought by J. H. Barrows of this place to recover possession of a pair of work horses, harness and sleds. The defendant, C. C. Stevens, took a contract to haul an amount of lumber for the Bethel Chair Co., buying his horses of H. C. Philbrook and giving him a note and mortgage on the horses. Mr. Stevens became unable to meet the note, and Mr. Barrows, to keep him going, endorsed the note and took an assignment of the mortgage. Later the money to pay the Philbrook note was obtained of a Mr. Littlehale, and a note was given to him, Mr. Barrows being responsible for the payment. Mr. Stevens contends that it was understood that when the Philbrook note was taken up, the mortgage should be released, but Mr. Barrows declines to release it as long as he is responsible for the payment of any note. The harnesses were furnished by an order from Mr. Barrows, and the sleds were built by both parties jointly, the plaintiff maintaining that they were to remain his property, while the defendant denies any such understanding. The jury awarded possession of the horses to the plaintiff, the harnesses and sleds to the defendant. Herick for plaintiff; Wright for defendant.

All cyclists who wish to join the parade on June 10th, will consult the President of the Cycle Club, Mr. A. M. Allen, as soon as possible.

Come to the Centennial—but don't go home without a pound of Mrs. Needham's nice thread; two hundred and fifty pounds sold in three months, one hundred pounds to arrive this week.

BETHEL LOCALS.

Ralph Chapman, who has been working in Manchester, N. H., is at home for the summer.

Mr. C. Bisbee is again on the sick-list. He has been confined to his home for several days.

O. D. Clough has a very handsome brown colt by Roadmaster, dam by Young Champion, 2nd dam by Brown Harry.

All those wishing to become members of the Bethel Cycle Club, will please send their names to the Secretary, H. C. Rowe.

The Bethel Cycle Club will meet Tuesday evening, June 1st, at Mrs. E. C. Rowe's at 7.30. All cyclists are invited to attend.

L. A. Hall's black stallion, Roadmaster, by Quartermaster, 2,214, has been added to Frank Merrill's string at Riverside Park.

Mrs. John Philbrook has a large variety of flowering plants, which arrived from South Portland, yesterday; these will be set out in their front yard.

An elegant bouquet of roses from Mrs. Ella Wilson of Berlin, N. H., was presented to the president of the graduating class, G. A., after the reading of his essay on Commencement day.

The Lewiston Weekly Journal from June to November for fifty cents, and a nice premium—a choice of several premiums worth more than the money. Call on J. G. Rich, agent.

P. H. Cole and wife from Washington, have been in Bethel a few days. Mr. Cole was on Thursday of last week the guest of T. F. Hastings. He is one of the firm of Cole Bros., Jewelers, Washington, and was at one time a resident of Bethel.

The following merchants have agreed to close their respective places of business at six o'clock, Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week, on and after June 1st, until further notice: E. C. Rowe, C. Rowe, G. P. Bear, R. E. L. Farwell, D. D. Matheson, E. H. Young, S. N. Buck, Hastings Bros., Miss Hall, John Burnham, C. Bisbee, John Haggood, Irving Kimball, C. Bryant, Edward King, I. C. Jordan, Woodbury & Purinton.

On Saturday, May 23, the teachers of Gould's Academy and about twenty of the pupils, drove to Poplar Tavern, Screw Auger Falls and other places of interest on Bear river. Dinner under the trees, fishing, picking wild-flowers, and exploring the many caves and canyons on this stream occupied the time. The party left the Academy at seven o'clock, A. M., and returned at eight o'clock P. M. The day was pleasant, the drive delightful, and the whole company passed a most enjoyable day.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Ernest Walker spent a part of last week at Middle Dam, and he came home Saturday night with not only a good story to tell, but the big fish to show for it. It was a five and a quarter pound trout, and measured just twenty inches. We had known Mr. Walker as a good salesman and a genial, pleasant man, but had not mistrusted that he was a fisherman, and a 5 1/2 pound trout story without the trout as a backer would probably have brought a smile and a look of sympathy; but with the trout in evidence, and such a fine one, too, we are forced to recognize his ability as a fisherman. The trout was taken from under the dam, and reached Bethel fresh and solid. Bethel people usually have pretty good luck at Middle Dam.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

Children's Column.

We solicit letters and items from the children of this column, and would ask anyone to send us stories, puzzles or anything deemed of interest to the little folks.

But Helen, looking despairingly around to see if some means of help were not at hand, gave a sudden squeal of delight, for a familiar form was coming up the street. Her papa! Here was indeed an unlooked for deliverance from her troubles! What cared she that a strange lady was walking by his side? Leaving the still sobbing Mattie to disconsolate in the dust, she ran to him, this dirty, ragged, bare-footed little girl, so strangely attired, and clasped his hand in frantic grasp.

"Oh, papa, papa!" she gasped. Her only feeling on seeing him had been one of joy; but now, when she saw the surprise, incredulity and displeasure in his face, a sense of keen disgrace overcame her, and she burst into tears.

It was a trying position for papa; papa—who was escorting home their visitor, Mrs. Everett, who had come a few days earlier than was expected. He felt tempted to brush off the dirty little hands, ignore the wailing atom of humanity in the street, and leave them to their fate. But he didn't, of course. That wouldn't be like papa's. So he made the best of a bad predicament, and went to the work of rescue. Mattie absolutely refused to walk, and curled up in her papa's arms contentedly, utterly undisturbed by the fact that her wet and grimy face was nestled against his erstwhile immaculately white linen. Helen sorrowfully fell to the rear, and so the little procession started homeward.

But who was that, coming down the street, with troubled face, and attired in morning wrapper? The anxious, worried mama, who had found her nestlings down, and regardless of appearances started in search of them.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

But why record all the harrowing particulars of that ill-starred morning? Suffice it to say that Helen meekly bore the inevitable punishment which followed, that the dulcet strains of a hand organ, which, once she so admired, now, in the light of past events, fill her with disgust and loathing; and that the visit, which began so inauspiciously, was nevertheless a very happy one, and much enjoyed by all concerned.

A GRAND PREMIUM CONTEST.

$100. Remington Bicycle $100. The Grand Prize.

$25. Marlin Rifle, 2nd. 5 Years Subscription to the News, 3rd.

THE BICYCLE COUNTY. Miss Alice Russell, 1800 Gilman Chapman, 1800 Vira Parker, 800 Wm. Holmes, 1600 W. O. Green, Newry, 100 J. E. Wortley, 1800

THE BICYCLE COUNTY. Miss Alice Russell, 1800 Gilman Chapman, 1800 Vira Parker, 800 Wm. Holmes, 1600 W. O. Green, Newry, 100 J. E. Wortley, 1800

THE B

GRAND TRUNK RY.

SYSTEM.

Time Table in Effect Feb. 17, 1896.

Trains Eastward.
Stations	Express	Express	Express
GOSSAM	11:30 am	12:30 pm	1:30 pm
Shepley	11:45	12:45	1:45
Green	12:00	1:00	2:00
West Bethel	12:15	1:15	2:15
BETHEL	12:30	1:30	2:30
Locke's Mill	12:45	1:45	2:45
Brantford	1:00	2:00	3:00
South Paris	1:15	2:15	3:15
Portland	1:30	2:30	3:30
ROCKFORD (M.)	1:45	2:45	3:45

Trains Westward.
Stations	Express	Express	Express
GOSSAM	11:30 am	12:30 pm	1:30 pm
Shepley	11:45	12:45	1:45
Green	12:00	1:00	2:00
West Bethel	12:15	1:15	2:15
BETHEL	12:30	1:30	2:30
Locke's Mill	12:45	1:45	2:45
Brantford	1:00	2:00	3:00
South Paris	1:15	2:15	3:15
Portland	1:30	2:30	3:30
ROCKFORD (M.)	1:45	2:45	3:45

Daily, except Monday, stop only on signal.

No. 1 has Pullman Sleeping Car Portland to Montreal, Montreal to Chicago.

No. 2 has Pullman Buffet Parlor car between Portland and Montreal, and Pullman Buffet Sleeping car between Montreal and Chicago.

W. D. DAVIS, Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agent, 209 G. ST., BETHEL, ME.

H. C. BARKER,
Manufacturers Agent, Dealer in—

Doors, Sashes
Window Blinds.

FOOT OF HIGH ST., BETHEL, MAINE

C. L. DAVIS,
General Trucking and Dealer in

COAL, ICE, &c.

Trucking of every kind promptly attended to. Orders to be left at house.

C. L. DAVIS,
MAIN STREET, BETHEL, MAINE

BUSINESS Education.

Actual business by mail and common carrier at

The Shaw Shortland College

PORTLAND, ME.

F. L. SHAW, PRINCIPAL - PORTLAND.

DR. C. L. BUCK,

DENTIST.

SOUTH PARIS, MAINE.

It is our aim to save teeth, not destroy them.

We visit Lockes Mills every second Wednesday.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

N. F. BROWN,

Dealer in—

Stoves,
Hardware,

Paints, Oils, Etc.

BETHEL, MAINE.

E. E. WHITNEY & Co.,

BETHEL, ME.

Marble & Granite

Workers.

Chaste Designs

First-Class workmanship.

Letters of inquiry promptly answered. See our work.

Get our prices.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

E. E. WHITNEY & Co.

Ripans Tablets cure nausea.

Ripans Tablets cure indigestion.

Ripans Tablets cure biliousness.

Ripans Tablets: one gives relief.

HOME COMFORTS

ROLL OF HONOR.

Three Gold Medals and a Silver Medal, The World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, 1884-5.

Diploma, Alabama State Agricultural Society, at Montgomery, 1887.

Highest Awards, 25th Annual Fair, St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association, 1889.

Highest Award, Western Fair Association, London, Canada, 1893.

What Home People Say:

Bennington, Vt., Aug. 2, 1895.

Mr. C. A. Day, Supt.

Dear Sir—Some little time ago we purchased a Home Comfort Range from one of your wagons and find it just as represented by Mr. Jones. We have never used a stove or range we liked so well. It is a splendid baker and heats up very quickly, and in the use of wood is very economical. Wishing you further success, we are

Yours respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. F. Sheldon.

East Salem, N. Y., Aug. 3, 1895.

Gentlemen—This is to certify that we have purchased of Lee S. Kinter a Home Comfort range, and we find it just as sold in every particular. It is a splendid baker and good cooker. We can highly recommend our range to anyone wishing to purchase a range. We would not take $100. for our range if we could not get another of the same kind. Respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Danforth.

East Arlington, Vt., Aug. 5, 1895.

To whom it may concern—This is to certify that I have purchased a Home Comfort range and will say it answers the recommendations given by the agent selling the ranges, is a good baker and find it a very convenient stove to do work with.
Mrs. D. G. Barney.

The County News.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS Collected by our Local Correspondents for the BETHEL NEWS.

TO CORRESPONDENTS

You are earnestly requested to send in the news from your locality. In every town where we have not already had a correspondent we would like to make arrangements with some person to furnish us with items. Write us.

WEST BETHEL.

To everyone's regret so many of us are unable to visit the lake. When comes in a breeze, we know how what the weather will be. It is so easy to get into a cold, and it is not one thing or the other; it is a mixture of both.

Keep the tent caterpillars off your fruit trees by wetting them down in strong soap-suds.

Gerardo Wright, of W. Milan, N. H., was in this village Friday, and will work through the summer on a farm in Glendon.

ALBANY CENTER.

J. K. Wheeler has some nice four weeks old pigs for sale.

May-baskets and mosquitoes are very plenty in this locality.

H. O. Wilbur is having his barn enlarged; his son Mellie is doing the work.

Mrs. Inez Johnson, who has been sick for the past few weeks, is gaining slowly.

Chas. Beckler has been doing Edgar Andrews' ploughing with his span of grays.

It is feared that last week's heavy frost has badly damaged the apple crop in this place.

Mrs. Margaret Johnson spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Mary A. Bean, last week.

Mr. Joseph Cummings, who is a great lover of flowers, has an orange tree which was in full bloom a short time ago.

Miss Estella Bean was suddenly called to Lowell, Mass., last week on account of the illness of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Foster.

School at Hunt's Corner is under the instruction of Miss Grace Bartlett of Grover Hill, who is giving good satisfaction, we understand.

Wallace Mason of Bethel has recently put in his pasture on the side of Round Mountain, eight head of cattle and one hundred and six sheep and lambs.

L. S. Andrews and brother Pearl, who are building W. J. Beckler's house, have stopped work for a short time. We understand they will continue again as soon as planting is over.

School in the Town House district is in session under the instruction of Mrs. Alma J. Cummings. The team which conveys the scholars from the Wescott district to the Town House is driven by Miss Ada O. Bean, while Mrs. Myra Lord drives the one from the Marshall district.

LOVELL.

Alice Briggs has returned from her visit in Sweden.

Addie Stone has returned to her home in Norway.

Mrs. Henry Brown has been visiting at Norway.

Mrs. Day of Portland is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Walker.

Quite a party from this village attended the drama at the Centre, last Friday night.

Deacon William Walker died very suddenly at his home last Monday night of apoplexy.

Ripans Tablets assist digestion.

BUCKFIELD.

Fred Atwood of Rumford Falls was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Atwood returned to her home at Rumford Falls, Monday.

Lottie Spaulding has gone to Cambridgeport, Mass., to visit her sister, Mrs. A. C. Cole.

Kimball C. Atwood and family and servant of Clifton, N. J., arrived at Hotel Long, Saturday.

Rossie Tilton of Floral Park, N. Y., and Mrs. Park Dingley of Auburn, visited at Gilbert Tilton's Friday.

Mrs. Bert Allen of South Boston, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Atwood, returned to her home last Friday.

Mrs. Betsey Beers of Newton Highlands, who will be 96 years old in August, is visiting her grandson, Chas. Brown.

John Lewis Childs, florist, of Floral Park, N. Y., and family, passed up this line, Saturday, en route for Rumford Falls.

We greeted our old friend and former physician, D. W. Wight, of West Medford, at the depot last Friday, as he was returning from the lakes with his friend J. H. Decester of Mechanic Falls.

Earl Brown, who broke his leg last winter at Rumford Falls while shacking cars, has lately returned from the hospital at Portland. We have three young men now traveling with crutches, Merton Robinson who broke his leg at the saw-mill, and Stanley Damon with a bad leg of long standing.

Memorial services held at the Methodist church, were conducted by Rev. Mr. Rich assisted by Rev. Mr. Lawrence. A stack of arms on either side of the desk from which hung flags, giving name "Fessenden Post, 43." A profusion of flags and flowers adorned the surroundings, for which as usual, greater credit is due the ladies (still they cannot vote). History and religion constituted the gist of the discourse, well gotten up and spoken of in commendable terms.

Memorial day will be observed by the usual services. The address will be delivered by Prof. Sargent of Hebron Academy, at the Town Hall. A band will be in attendance.

EAST BETHEL.

Miss Macallister is visiting friends at this place.

Mr. J. C. Estes of Waltham, Mass., is attending to his farm at this place.

Eugene Bean is planting an acre of horse radish to be harvested in the late fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole of Washington, D. C. have been visiting at his father's, D. W. Cole.

Mr. B. Howe and E. P. Goddard of Auburn, spent the past week at the lakes, on a fishing expedition.

The farm buildings of Farnum Estes, consisting of one and one half story house, ell, wood house and barn all connected, also a barn owned and occupied by J. H. Estes were totally destroyed by fire last Saturday. A part of the household goods and a very few farming tools were saved; calves, swine, grain, potatoes, large quantities of hay and about fifty dollars in money were burned. Mr. and Mrs. Estes were away from their home at the time of the fire; the cause is not known.

WILSON'S MILLS.

Joseph W. Carter has purchased a fine sulkey plow.

Miss Daisy A. Brooks of Grafton, is working at F. A. Flint's.

There have been quite a number of peddlers in town this week.

School commenced Monday, with Miss Sadie Abbott as teacher.

Percy Ripley went up river one day last week to see about forest fires.

Guy W. Brooks has gone to Parmachenee Lake to work for the summer.

Marshall and Victor Gilbert have been helping N. K. Bennett with his spring work.

Rev. S. S. York of Wilton, Me., is expected to preach here Saturday evening and Sunday.

Quite a number of the scholars from the west side of the river are boarding across the river until the drive goes by.

Headache Destroys Health

Resulting in poor memory, irritability, nervousness and intellectual exhaustion. It induces other forms of disease, such as epilepsy, heart disease, apoplexy, insanity, etc.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cures.

Mr. Chas. A. Myers, 201 Hanna St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes Oct. 7, 1894: "I suffered terribly with severe headaches, dizziness, backache and nervousness, gradually growing worse until my life was despaired of, and I tried what you would, I found no relief until I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nervine. I have taken five bottles and believe I am a well woman, and I have taken great comfort in recommending all of my friends to use Nervine. You may publish this letter if you wish, and I hope it may be the means of saving some other sick mother's life, as it did mine."

On sale by all druggists. Book on Heart and Nerves sent FREE. "Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind."

Dr. Miles' Remedies Restore Health.

EAST BUCKFIELD.

Flora Record is visiting at Mary F. Robinson's.

Our cream gatherer takes our cream very early in the morning.

George S. Record has bought a four year old colt of the Dunn Bros.

Miss Mary F. Record has bought Daniel Tuttle pacer, it is a fine looking mare.

Mrs. David Record, after some weeks of severe sickness is improving.

All fruit trees blossomed very full this spring and caterpillars are very numerous.

Mrs. Rose Tuttle is teaching up on the mountain and boards with her cousin, Mrs. Cora Whitman.

The 10th, Justice Mason and wife went to Mechanic Falls to attend the funeral of P. B. Tilston.

Master Fred Davee from Avon Mass, has come to spend the summer with his Uncle H. G. Davee.

Horace Dunn with his pair of horses, and Jim Bicknell from North Buckfield with his two pair of horses are at work on the road with the road machine.

On the morning of the 19th there was a heavy frost; farmers who had early potatoes up, and did not cover them, had them killed; some people think that it hurt the apple-blossoms.

DENMARK.

Prof. Cook was in the place last week selling eye glasses.

Rev. A. F. Hinkley gave an illustrated temperance lecture last evening at the church.

Mrs. Nancy Allen of Brookfield Mass. came Friday to visit her sick sister, Miss Minnie Pingree who is very low.

Rev. C. F. Sargent preached a memorial sermon to the G. A. R. Post last Sunday; a large gathering and an excellent service.

Rufus Bennett of Worcester Mass., came to town Saturday, on a two weeks vacation; he works at the Insane Asylum in Worcester.

NORWAY.

The foundation is being laid for a large block near Never's store.

The steamer commenced regular trips last week. Cottages are being repaired.

Arthur Norsworthy has organized the band and they will be on parade Memorial day.

The N. H. S. boys celebrated their victory at Bethel, Friday, by a grand noise on tin horns, etc.

ALBANY.

Arthur Cross of Boston is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Cross.

F. G. Sloan lost a good work horse recently. He thinks its death was caused by gnawing the bark from a locust tree.

Mr. Richmond Wescott of Portland has sold the old Wescott place to Mr. Hodgdon of Portland. Mr. Hodgdon has taken possession.

Mrs. J. P. Kimball has returned from Stark, N. H., where she has been stopping, much improved in health. Mr. Kimball's other, Mrs. L. avit, who came down with Mrs. Kimball returns to Stark this week.

Ripans Tablets cure headache.

Ripans Tablets cure flatulence.

Ripans Tablets cure liver troubles.

Ripans Tablets cure dyspepsia.

Ripans Tablets cure dizziness.

Ripans Tablets cure indigestion.

MESSENGER'S NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE COUNTY CLERK, STATE OF MAINE.

OXFORD, ss.—May 29th, A. D. 1896.

This is to certify that on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1896, a warrant in insolvency was issued by the Court of Insolvency for said County of Oxford, against the estate of NEWELL D. BROWN, an insolvent debtor, on petition of said debtor, which petition was filed on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1896, and last named date interest on claims is to be computed; that the payment of any debts and the delivery and transfer of any property belonging to said debtor, in full or for the benefit of the creditors of said debtor, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of his estate, will be held at a Court of Insolvency to be held at Paris in A. D. 1896, at the clock in the forenoon. Given under my hand the date first above written.

WILTON PENNEY, Deputy Sheriff.

An Assessor of the County of Insolvency, for said County of Oxford.

AMERICAN NERVOUSNESS

No More of the Disease Here Than Elsewhere.

Statistics show that the Stigma of the Race in America Has Shown No Deterioration—Vigor of Our People.

The belief in the greater nervousness of the American seems very widespread. The late Dr. Beard, of New York, was one of the first to describe nervous prostration, and to give it the name of neurasthenia, so that it has often been spoken of as "the American disease." In his work on "American Nervousness" he treats chiefly of the causes of the nervousness, and its symptoms, according almost as an axiom the statement that Americans are more nervous than any other race, and that there is a vastly greater amount of nervous disease in this country than in Europe. He admits, however, that the statistics of organic nervous disease, such as locomotor ataxia and apoplexy, are probably less frequent, the increase being in the so-called functional conditions, neurasthenia, hysteria and the like, which are probably the result of the statement that Americans are more nervous than any other race, and that there is a vastly greater amount of nervous disease in this country than in Europe.

Although, as he says, the statistics are not conclusive, nevertheless the conclusions drawn from various general impressions, absolutely contradict this belief. It is only since the year 1812 that the American has acquired his reputation for restless energy; before that he was denounced as indolent and sluggish. Up to the period of the civil war he was denounced as physically feeble, and his countrymen were regarded as such a record has never been surpassed. These men were of the purest American stock.

At about the same time Dr. Brown-Séquard found that the American manhood was injured by that were inevitably fatal to the European, and our surgeons found a surprising percentage of recovery from severe gunshot wounds, greater probably than had ever been observed in Europe. Dr. E. A. Gould found that the American soldier was physically as well developed as the European, and Dr. H. P. Bowditch found that the American schoolboy was the equal in measurement of the boys of the world. In short, the American life-insurance underwriters, too, have found that the longevity in this country is as great as it is in Europe, or greater. The rise of the south since the civil war, and the rapid recovery of individual companies, such as Chicago, Boston and Portland, after great conflagrations, are further instances of the great recuperative power of our people.

Since the civil war our physical condition has greatly improved. The greater interest in athletics, and better cooking, have probably had something to do with this improvement. We have held the American cup for nearly 50 years, and our athletes have not only surpassed their London rivals, but have established new world's records in more than one event. In the famous ride a few years ago between Berlin and Vienna the picked riders and horses of the Australian and German armies were used, yet our cavalrymen and express messengers on the plains, with ordinary mounts, have made better records both for the time and distance, without the slightest injury to horse or man.

Ripans Tablets cure torpid liver.

Ripans Tablets cure constipation.

Ripans Tablets: pleasant laxative.

Ripans Tablets.

Ripans Tablets: gentle cathartic.

Ripans Tablets: at druggists.

W. L. DOUGLAS'S

$3.00 SHOE

BEST TANNERY CALF

BETON SEWED

We also have the 2.50 line in lace and congress.

We have a full line of Men's, Ladies', Boys', and Children's shoes of all makes.

SPRING CLOTHING and Mackintoshes

Ceylon, Rowe, Bethel, Me.

W. J. WHEELER,

80, PARIS, ME.

SEE HERE.

I might have saved two or three dollars by buying of

YOUNG

This is what they all have to admit when they buy a harness before getting my prices. I have the largest and most complete stock to be found of all kinds of

HORSE, GARRIAGE & STABLE SUPPLIES.

YOUNG'S Harness Store.

Buy Your Grass Seed of

WOODBURY & PURINGTON

BETHEL, ME.

Timothy Seed,

New York Clover

Pea Vine Clover,

Alsike Clover,

Red Top Clover.

We have just received

A Car Load of Seed Oats.

Agents for

BRADLEY'S and CUMBERLAND

FERTILIZERS.

WOODBURY & PURINGTON,

Near R. R. Station.

W. L. DOUGLAS'S

$3.00 SHOE

BEST TANNERY CALF

BETON SEWED

We also have the 2.50 line in lace and congress.

We have a full line of Men's, Ladies', Boys', and Children's shoes of all makes.

UNKNOWN.

There's a grave on the farrow hillside, A lonely, unmarked grave...

A CHILD SHALL LEAD.

"Miss Mehitable," said Lucretia after a long pause, "shouldn't you think it must be nice to have a lot of dead folks all your own?"

Miss Mehitable dropped the black stockings she was knitting, pushed her spectacles up on her smooth, iron gray hair and stared at her newly adopted daughter.

Only six months ago Miss Mehitable had gone to the orphan asylum in the city and astonished the matron by asking for the homeliest girl they had for adoption.

"There's always plenty of folks to take the good looking ones," she said, with a contemptuous sniff.

"My name is Mehitable Sweet of Royton," continued the visitor, "and I can refer you to the selectmen of the town."

"Our homeliest girl! Well, I think we ought to call up '42," said the matron to the amused first assistant.

"'42," a shrieking, red haired child, not beautiful, scarcely, was brought in to the visitors' parlor.

"You can leave us alone," said Miss Mehitable, and the matron obediently withdrew.

"Now, my dear," said Miss Mehitable to the frightened child, with a sudden softening of manner, "get up in my lap."

It would be wicked to adopt granddaughters, if they'd been dead so long they had no one left.

"Who are they?" asked Miss Mehitable. "One is Captain Jonathan Martin and the other is Lieutenant Thomas Edmunds, and they died before 1800."

"No," said Miss Mehitable, in answer to the child's inquiry, "the Martin family are all gone, and the last Edmunds moved west years ago. There is no one living who would care, and as for the dead—I don't think they'd object."

"Ah," said Lucretia, with fervor; "they will be such a comfort to me tonight! I can make stories up about them after I go to bed, and I can take care of the graves and put wreaths on them on their birthdays, and perhaps you will have the headstones straightened, and I will clean and scrape them, and then on Decoration day they will put flags and flowers there, and I shall feel so proud and so—so respectable!"

So with Miss Mehitable's consent and aid Lucretia Laella adopted her granddaughters.

All through April the child worked every pleasant day after school hours patiently digging up with grass and weeds from the neglected mounds and the gravelled walk that ran beside them.

"I gave Grandfather Martin all of the cowslips, for he was so fond of them, you know. Grandpa says he always kept a box of them on the sitting room table while they were in blossom."

"The child lifted her eyebrows significantly and whispered, 'Make believe.'"

"But Grandpa Edmunds liked violet best. I've given them all to him."

The child ran on full of mythical tales of these pseudo grandfathers who had died nearly 100 years before.

Royton, like many old towns in New England, was rich in Revolutionary lore, and in her graveyard were buried several of those who, by dying, had helped to make the nation.

"No, my dear," said Miss Mehitable to the frightened child, with a sudden softening of manner, "get up in my lap."

mother, even two dead granddaughters, and her cup of bliss was full.

The little procession, with muffled drums and tolling bell, came slowly to the soldiers' monument, where the townspeople had gathered.

The church choir sang, the minister made a prayer, and then came the roll call.

Before Miss Mehitable realized it Lucretia had slipped her hand away from the right of the Union flag.

"If you please, sir," she said as she handed it to him, "won't you call the roll for the Revolutionary soldiers over in the old part too? Both my granddaughters are there—that is, not my really adopted because they hadn't any little girl and I hadn't any granddaughters, and I've copied their names on this paper, if you'll only call them out! I'm sure they must be very homesome way over there in that corner."

The clear little voice rang out in the silence. Filled with an absorbing emotion, the shy child became bold.

"Comrades," said he, "after this we will call the roll of the Revolutionary dead first."

The crowd, all of whom knew the child and her sad history, cheered.

"How glad they'll be!" she said, slipping back into her place beside Miss Mehitable, whose stern face was very tender as she looked at the unconscious child.

One by one the names of those valiant dead were called, and the voice of the drum was the only answer.

There were not many of them, but enough to make every heart fill with pride that the little town of Royton had borne her part so bravely in that mighty struggle.

The child followed the much longer list of the civil war soldiers, and there was not a veteran there who did not feel glad that the place of honor had been given to the earlier dead.

A SOLDIER'S BRAVERY. Information Gained by a Spy Proves Valuable at Culp's Hill.

Dr. H. H. Howry, who was assistant surgeon of the Tenth Maine Infantry, relates the following incident in the Pittsburg Dispatch.

"On the second day of the battle of Gettysburg the Tenth Maine Infantry occupied the extreme right at the foot of Culp's Hill, where slight earthworks had been thrown up."

"The enemy doubtless discovered the movement, and after dark, it was found that they were moving by the left flank down the ravine back of the Union lines."

"The night being black as ink, the risk was great—the man was forthcoming. Henry Kallock threw off his chevrons, and the man in private soldier's uniform announced himself as Company D, as brave as he was daring and efficient."

"The Rock of Chickamauga. Here is a bit of military history that very few of the present generation are familiar with."

"The Rock of Chickamauga. Here is a bit of military history that very few of the present generation are familiar with."

"The hair of the dog will cure the bite" is a popular statement of the fundamental principle of homeopathy.

"There is a type of the modern successful man."

"What has he done?"

"Married an heiress."—Chicago Post.

"The observance of Decoration day should not be left to the surviving veterans even now."

ROADMASTER. BLACK STALLION. Foaled 1888, stands 15-1, weighs 1,025, bred by H. D. Warner, Paulding, N. Y., sired by Quartermaster, 2,214, in a winning race over Fleetwood track to high wheel sulkey, trial under same conditions, mile in 2:14, half, 1:04, quarter, 31 seconds a 2:04 gait, and sire at 12 years of age.

Quartermaster, 2,144 2:14 2:15 2:16 2:17 2:18 2:19 2:20 2:21 2:22 2:23 2:24 2:25 2:26 2:27 2:28 2:29 2:30 2:31 2:32 2:33 2:34 2:35 2:36 2:37 2:38 2:39 2:40 2:41 2:42 2:43 2:44 2:45 2:46 2:47 2:48 2:49 2:50 2:51 2:52 2:53 2:54 2:55 2:56 2:57 2:58 2:59 3:00 3:01 3:02 3:03 3:04 3:05 3:06 3:07 3:08 3:09 3:10 3:11 3:12 3:13 3:14 3:15 3:16 3:17 3:18 3:19 3:20 3:21 3:22 3:23 3:24 3:25 3:26 3:27 3:28 3:29 3:30 3:31 3:32 3:33 3:34 3:35 3:36 3:37 3:38 3:39 3:40 3:41 3:42 3:43 3:44 3:45 3:46 3:47 3:48 3:49 3:50 3:51 3:52 3:53 3:54 3:55 3:56 3:57 3:58 3:59 4:00 4:01 4:02 4:03 4:04 4:05 4:06 4:07 4:08 4:09 4:10 4:11 4:12 4:13 4:14 4:15 4:16 4:17 4:18 4:19 4:20 4:21 4:22 4:23 4:24 4:25 4:26 4:27 4:28 4:29 4:30 4:31 4:32 4:33 4:34 4:35 4:36 4:37 4:38 4:39 4:40 4:41 4:42 4:43 4:44 4:45 4:46 4:47 4:48 4:49 4:50 4:51 4:52 4:53 4:54 4:55 4:56 4:57 4:58 4:59 5:00 5:01 5:02 5:03 5:04 5:05 5:06 5:07 5:08 5:09 5:10 5:11 5:12 5:13 5:14 5:15 5:16 5:17 5:18 5:19 5:20 5:21 5:22 5:23 5:24 5:25 5:26 5:27 5:28 5:29 5:30 5:31 5:32 5:33 5:34 5:35 5:36 5:37 5:38 5:39 5:40 5:41 5:42 5:43 5:44 5:45 5:46 5:47 5:48 5:49 5:50 5:51 5:52 5:53 5:54 5:55 5:56 5:57 5:58 5:59 6:00 6:01 6:02 6:03 6:04 6:05 6:06 6:07 6:08 6:09 6:10 6:11 6:12 6:13 6:14 6:15 6:16 6:17 6:18 6:19 6:20 6:21 6:22 6:23 6:24 6:25 6:26 6:27 6:28 6:29 6:30 6:31 6:32 6:33 6:34 6:35 6:36 6:37 6:38 6:39 6:40 6:41 6:42 6:43 6:44 6:45 6:46 6:47 6:48 6:49 6:50 6:51 6:52 6:53 6:54 6:55 6:56 6:57 6:58 6:59 7:00 7:01 7:02 7:03 7:04 7:05 7:06 7:07 7:08 7:09 7:10 7:11 7:12 7:13 7:14 7:15 7:16 7:17 7:18 7:19 7:20 7:21 7:22 7:23 7:24 7:25 7:26 7:27 7:28 7:29 7:30 7:31 7:32 7:33 7:34 7:35 7:36 7:37 7:38 7:39 7:40 7:41 7:42 7:43 7:44 7:45 7:46 7:47 7:48 7:49 7:50 7:51 7:52 7:53 7:54 7:55 7:56 7:57 7:58 7:59 8:00 8:01 8:02 8:03 8:04 8:05 8:06 8:07 8:08 8:09 8:10 8:11 8:12 8:13 8:14 8:15 8:16 8:17 8:18 8:19 8:20 8:21 8:22 8:23 8:24 8:25 8:26 8:27 8:28 8:29 8:30 8:31 8:32 8:33 8:34 8:35 8:36 8:37 8:38 8:39 8:40 8:41 8:42 8:43 8:44 8:45 8:46 8:47 8:48 8:49 8:50 8:51 8:52 8:53 8:54 8:55 8:56 8:57 8:58 8:59 9:00 9:01 9:02 9:03 9:04 9:05 9:06 9:07 9:08 9:09 9:10 9:11 9:12 9:13 9:14 9:15 9:16 9:17 9:18 9:19 9:20 9:21 9:22 9:23 9:24 9:25 9:26 9:27 9:28 9:29 9:30 9:31 9:32 9:33 9:34 9:35 9:36 9:37 9:38 9:39 9:40 9:41 9:42 9:43 9:44 9:45 9:46 9:47 9:48 9:49 9:50 9:51 9:52 9:53 9:54 9:55 9:56 9:57 9:58 9:59 10:00 10:01 10:02 10:03 10:04 10:05 10:06 10:07 10:08 10:09 10:10 10:11 10:12 10:13 10:14 10:15 10:16 10:17 10:18 10:19 10:20 10:21 10:22 10:23 10:24 10:25 10:26 10:27 10:28 10:29 10:30 10:31 10:32 10:33 10:34 10:35 10:36 10:37 10:38 10:39 10:40 10:41 10:42 10:43 10:44 10:45 10:46 10:47 10:48 10:49 10:50 10:51 10:52 10:53 10:54 10:55 10:56 10:57 10:58 10:59 11:00 11:01 11:02 11:03 11:04 11:05 11:06 11:07 11:08 11:09 11:10 11:11 11:12 11:13 11:14 11:15 11:16 11:17 11:18 11:19 11:20 11:21 11:22 11:23 11:24 11:25 11:26 11:27 11:28 11:29 11:30 11:31 11:32 11:33 11:34 11:35 11:36 11:37 11:38 11:39 11:40 11:41 11:42 11:43 11:44 11:45 11:46 11:47 11:48 11:49 11:50 11:51 11:52 11:53 11:54 11:55 11:56 11:57 11:58 11:59 12:00 12:01 12:02 12:03 12:04 12:05 12:06 12:07 12:08 12:09 12:10 12:11 12:12 12:13 12:14 12:15 12:16 12:17 12:18 12:19 12:20 12:21 12:22 12:23 12:24 12:25 12:26 12:27 12:28 12:29 12:30 12:31 12:32 12:33 12:34 12:35 12:36 12:37 12:38 12:39 12:40 12:41 12:42 12:43 12:44 12:45 12:46 12:47 12:48 12:49 12:50 12:51 12:52 12:53 12:54 12:55 12:56 12:57 12:58 12:59 13:00 13:01 13:02 13:03 13:04 13:05 13:06 13:07 13:08 13:09 13:10 13:11 13:12 13:13 13:14 13:15 13:16 13:17 13:18 13:19 13:20 13:21 13:22 13:23 13:24 13:25 13:26 13:27 13:28 13:29 13:30 13:31 13:32 13:33 13:34 13:35 13:36 13:37 13:38 13:39 13:40 13:41 13:42 13:43 13:44 13:45 13:46 13:47 13:48 13:49 13:50 13:51 13:52 13:53 13:54 13:55 13:56 13:57 13:58 13:59 14:00 14:01 14:02 14:03 14:04 14:05 14:06 14:07 14:08 14:09 14:10 14:11 14:12 14:13 14:14 14:15 14:16 14:17 14:18 14:19 14:20 14:21 14:22 14:23 14:24 14:25 14:26 14:27 14:28 14:29 14:30 14:31 14:32 14:33 14:34 14:35 14:36 14:37 14:38 14:39 14:40 14:41 14:42 14:43 14:44 14:45 14:46 14:47 14:48 14:49 14:50 14:51 14:52 14:53 14:54 14:55 14:56 14:57 14:58 14:59 15:00 15:01 15:02 15:03 15:04 15:05 15:06 15:07 15:08 15:09 15:10 15:11 15:12 15:13 15:14 15:15 15:16 15:17 15:18 15:19 15:20 15:21 15:22 15:23 15:24 15:25 15:26 15:27 15:28 15:29 15:30 15:31 15:32 15:33 15:34 15:35 15:36 15:37 15:38 15:39 15:40 15:41 15:42 15:43 15:44 15:45 15:46 15:47 15:48 15:49 15:50 15:51 15:52 15:53 15:54 15:55 15:56 15:57 15:58 15:59 16:00 16:01 16:02 16:03 16:04 16:05 16:06 16:07 16:08 16:09 16:10 16:11 16:12 16:13 16:14 16:15 16:16 16:17 16:18 16:19 16:20 16:21 16:22 16:23 16:24 16:25 16:26 16:27 16:28 16:29 16:30 16:31 16:32 16:33 16:34 16:35 16:36 16:37 16:38 16:39 16:40 16:41 16:42 16:43 16:44 16:45 16:46 16:47 16:48 16:49 16:50 16:51 16:52 16:53 16:54 16:55 16:56 16:57 16:58 16:59 17:00 17:01 17:02 17:03 17:04 17:05 17:06 17:07 17:08 17:09 17:10 17:11 17:12 17:13 17:14 17:15 17:16 17:17 17:18 17:19 17:20 17:21 17:22 17:23 17:24 17:25 17:26 17:27 17:28 17:29 17:30 17:31 17:32 17:33 17:34 17:35 17:36 17:37 17:38 17:39 17:40 17:41 17:42 17:43 17:44 17:45 17:46 17:47 17:48 17:49 17:50 17:51 17:52 17:53 17:54 17:55 17:56 17:57 17:58 17:59 18:00 18:01 18:02 18:03 18:04 18:05 18:06 18:07 18:08 18:09 18:10 18:11 18:12 18:13 18:14 18:15 18:16 18:17 18:18 18:19 18:20 18:21 18:22 18:23 18:24 18:25 18:26 18:27 18:28 18:29 18:30 18:31 18:32 18:33 18:34 18:35 18:36 18:37 18:38 18:39 18:40 18:41 18:42 18:43 18:44 18:45 18:46 18:47 18:48 18:49 18:50 18:51 18:52 18:53 18:54 18:55 18:56 18:57 18:58 18:59 19:00 19:01 19:02 19:03 19:04 19:05 19:06 19:07 19:08 19:09 19:10 19:11 19:12 19:13 19:14 19:15 19:16 19:17 19:18 19:19 19:20 19:21 19:22 19:23 19:24 19:25 19:26 19:27 19:28 19:29 19:30 19:31 19:32 19:33 19:34 19:35 19:36 19:37 19:38 19:39 19:40 19:41 19:42 19:43 19:44 19:45 19:46 19:47 19:48 19:49 19:50 19:51 19:52 19:53 19:54 19:55 19:56 19:57 19:58 19:59 20:00 20:01 20:02 20:03 20:04 20:05 20:06 20:07 20:08 20:09 20:10 20:11 20:12 20:13 20:14 20:15 20:16 20:17 20:18 20:19 20:20 20:21 20:22 20:23 20:24 20:25 20:26 20:27 20:28 20:29 20:30 20:31 20:32 20:33 20:34 20:35 20:36 20:37 20:38 20:39 20:40 20:41 20:42 20:43 20:44 20:45 20:46 20:47 20:48 20:49 20:50 20:51 20:52 20:53 20:54 20:55 20:56 20:57 20:58 20:59 21:00 21:01 21:02 21:03 21:04 21:05 21:06 21:07 21:08 21:09 21:10 21:11 21:12 21:13 21:14 21:15 21:16 21:17 21:18 21:19 21:20 21:21 21:22 21:23 21:24 21:25 21:26 21:27 21:28 21:29 21:30 21:31 21:32 21:33 21:34 21:35 21:36 21:37 21:38 21:39 21:40 21:41 21:42 21:43 21:44 21:45 21:46 21:47 21:48 21:49 21:50 21:51 21:52 21:53 21:54 21:55 21:56 21:57 21:58 21:59 22:00 22:01 22:02 22:03 22:04 22:05 22:06 22:07 22:08 22:09 22:10 22:11 22:12 22:13 22:14 22:15 22:16 22:17 22:18 22:19 22:20 22:21 22:22 22:23 22:24 22:25 22:26 22:27 22:28 22:29 22:30 22:31 22:32 22:33 22:34 22:35 22:36 22:37 22:38 22:39 22:40 22:41 22:42 22:43 22:44 22:45 22:46 22:47 22:48 22:49 22:50 22:51 22:52 22:53 22:54 22:55 22:56 22:57 22:58 22:59 23:00 23:01 23:02 23:03 23:04 23:05 23:06 23:07 23:08 23:09 23:10 23:11 23:12 23:13 23:14 23:15 23:16 23:17 23:18 23:19 23:20 23:21 23:22 23:23 23:24 23:25 23:26 23:27 23:28 23:29 23:30 23:31 23:32 23:33 23:34 23:35 23:36 23:37 23:38 23:39 23:40 23:41 23:42 23:43 23:44 23:45 23:46 23:47 23:48 23:49 23:50 23:51 23:52 23:53 23:54 23:55 23:56 23:57 23:58 23:59 24:00 24:01 24:02 24:03 24:04 24:05 24:06 24:07 24:08 24:09 24:10 24:11 24:12 24:13 24:14 24:15 24:16 24:17 24:18 24:19 24:20 24:21 24:22 24:23 24:24 24:25 24:26 24:27 24:28 24:29 24:30 24:31 24:32 24:33 24:34 24:35 24:36 24:37 24:38 24:39 24:40 24:41 24:42 24:43 24:44 24:45 24:46 24:47 24:48 24:49 24:50 24:51 24:52 24:53 24:54 24:55 24:56 24:57 24:58 24:59 25:00 25:01 25:02 25:03 25:04 25:05 25:06 25:07 25:08 25:09 25:10 25:11 25:12 25:13 25:14 25:15 25:16 25:17 25:18 25:19 25:20 25:21 25:22 25:23 25:24 25:25 25:26 25:27 25:28 25:29 25:30 25:31 25:32 25:33 25:34 25:35 25:36 25:37 25:38 25:39 25:40 25:41 25:42 25:43 25:44 25:45 25:46 25:47 25:48 25:49 25:50 25:51 25:52 25:53 25:54 25:55 25:56 25:57 25:58 25:59 26:00 26:01 26:02 26:03 26:04 26:05 26:06 26:07 26:08 26:09 26:10 26:11 26:12 26:13 26:14 26:15 26:16 26:17 26:18 26:19 26:20 26:21 26:22 26:23 26:24 26:25 26:26 26:27 26:28 26:29 26:30 26:31 26:32 26:33 26:34 26:35 26:36 26:37 26:38 26:39 26:40 26:41 26:42 26:43 26:44 26:45 26:46 26:47 26:48 26:49 26:50 26:51 26:52 26:53 26:54 26:55 26:56 26:57 26:58 26:59 27:00 27:01 27:02 27:03 27:04 27:05 27:06 27:07 27:08 27:09 27:10 27:11 27:12 27:13 27:14 27:15 27:16 27:17 27:18 27:19 27:20 27:21 27:22 27:23 27:24 27:25 27:26 27:27 27:28 27:29 27:30 27:31 27:32 27:33 27:34 27:35 27:36 27:37 27:38 27:39 27:40 27:41 27:42 27:43 27:44 27:45 27:46 27:47 27:48 27:49 27:50 27:51 27:52 27:53 27:54 27:55 27:56 27:57 27:58 27:59 28:00 28:01 28:02 28:03 28:04 28:05 28:06 28:07 28:08 28:09 28:10 28:11 28:12 28:13 28:14 28:15 28:16 28:17 28:18 28:19 28:20 28:21 28:22 28:23 28:24 28:25 28:26 28:27 28:28 28:29 28:30 28:31 28:32 28:33 28:34 28:35 28:36 28:37 28:38 28:39 28:40 28:41 28:42 28:43 28:44 28:45 28:46 28:47 28:48 28:49 28:50 28:51 28:52 28:53 28:54 28:55 28:56 28:57 28:58 28:59 29:00 29:01 29:02 29:03 29:04 29:05 29:06 29:07 29:08 29:09 29:10 29:1